

Alex Moore
ForeWord Magazine
Managing Editor
129 1/2 East Front Street
Traverse City, MI 49684

October 16, 2006

Dear Mr. Moore,

Thank you for considering this title for a possible book review in ForeWord.

Even if you're not a "suburban mom" – you'll find humor in this collection from popular syndicated columnist Meredith O'Brien's collection due out January 22, 2007.

Today Show parenting expert Stacy Debroff reviews:

"... one of the most refreshingly honest, hilarious, poignant, and searingly true parenting books that I have read of late. From hiding from her twin toddlers in order to down a couple uninterrupted bites of breakfast bagel to the vein throbbing on her forehead as other parents start brag about their children's amazing accomplishments: I kept thinking been there, did that. Plus, everyone around me wanted to know what I was laughing about as I read! Do not even try to be a sane suburban Mom without reading these Notes from the Asylum!"

Enclosed you will find the galley for "A Suburban Mom: Notes from the Asylum" and an info sheet. Thank you for your time.

Warm regards,
Nancy Cleary
Publicity

For further queries, please contact the publicity dept., Nancy Cleary, Tel: 541-964-3314
nancy@wymacpublishing.com